

HURT IN DIAMOND JIM'S AUTO

MISS HARRIET WATERS'S SKULL
BADLY FRACTURED.

Mr. Brady, Broker Housman, Miss Waters and Miss Edna R. Macaulay Thrown out by Collision with a Telephone Pole—Only One of Them Seriously Injured.

An automobile containing Diamond Jim Brady and three of his friends was wrecked on the Merrick road between Hudson and Rockville Centre, L. I. Saturday afternoon. One of the party, Miss Harriet Waters, whose address was given as 208 West Fifty-fifth street, received a compound fracture of the skull and was reported to be dying in the Nassau Hospital at Mineola late last night.

Other in the party were Fred Housman of the banking and brokerage firm of J. A. Housman & Co., and Miss Edna R. Macaulay, who lives at Columbus avenue and Seventy-first street. All of these and the driver, Hugo Dotzer of 501 West Forty-fifth street, were thrown out of the machine and badly shaken up.

The party was proceeding east along the Merrick road and the car was traveling at high speed. About half way between Rockville Centre and Baldwin the car crossed a steep incline in the road. At the foot of the hill there was a slight depression caused by the recent laying of a drain pipe. The front wheels landed in this depression, throwing the steering gear around.

The driver, Dotzer, tried to overcome this by swinging the machine quickly to the right. The steering wheel answered more easily than he thought it would. The machine was shot to the right side of the road and crashed into a telephone pole.

All hands were hurled out on the hard macadam turnpike. Brady, who was seated in front with the driver, landed on his head and was killed. Miss Macaulay, although stunned for a moment and badly shaken up, had escaped other injuries. The driver of the machine landed on the side of the roadway and wasn't even scratched.

All hands devoted their attention immediately to the unconscious young woman. The accident occurred almost directly in front of the country place of George A. Barker and word was telephoned from there to the nearest hospital, the Nassau, in Mineola. Dr. William J. Steele of Baldwin was also summoned and he advised that the injured woman be taken to a hospital as speedily as possible.

The party then called out to passing automobiles, asking that some one take the injured woman to Mineola. They say that the inhumanity of these automobilists was astounding, as at least ten cars passed by the occupants saying they didn't want to take her. Finally a man, who is said to have been a big car and offered his services.

Miss Waters was placed in this car and, accompanied by Housman and Dr. Steele, she was hurried toward Mineola. About a mile and a half from that place they met the Nassau Hospital ambulance and the unconscious woman was transferred to it. Housman continued on to the hospital and telephoned for his private physician, Dr. John A. Bodine of East Thirty-ninth Street. The latter said he would hurry to Mineola as fast as an automobile could take him.

Dr. Louis Lanehart, the chief surgeon of the Nassau Hospital, examined the injury. Miss Waters said that she had sustained a compound fracture of the skull. He held out little hope for her recovery. Brady's car, which was a big Mercedes and valued at $17,000, was completely wrecked. Brady telephoned to this city for another machine to bring him, Miss Macaulay and the driver back to town. At first an attempt was made on the part of Brady and his injured companions to conceal their identity. At the Nassau Hospital it was said that a request had been made that the names of the injured woman and those who had been in the machine with her be not made public, and that the younger woman was a private patient the hospital authorities could give no information.

Dotzer, the driver of the machine, was taken before Justice Archer Wallace and questioned concerning the occupants of the machine. He was placed under oath, and stated that one of them was his employer, James B. Brady of 7 West Eighty-sixth street, this city. The driver declared that he didn't know who the others were, as he had been in the employ of Brady only for the last six weeks, and therefore did not know much about his friends or associates.

At Brady's residence in this city the butler said that he hadn't been informed of the accident. All that he knew was that Mr. Brady had gone for an automobile ride on Long Island with a party of friends. It was said in Mineola last night that the injured woman was in the millinery business in Fifth avenue.

When it struck the telephone pole, when it struck the telephone pole, it smashed it so that the wires were torn down.

Diamond Jim Brady is one of the picturesque characters of New York. He is well known in sporting circles, especially at the racetracks. He owns the crack thoroughbred Oiseau, for which he paid $10,000. Brady is the vice-president of the Standard Steel Car Company, with offices at 10 Broadway. He is also director of the Magnus Metal Company. He is a familiar figure around the theatres and uptown restaurants. He got his sobriquet owing to a marked fondness he has for diamonds. He carried a cane the handle of which is studded with the stones, an umbrella similarly adorned, and has diamonds in the buttons of his waistcoat. Brady is a large, robust man and very popular in many circles.

Housman is a familiar figure in Wall Street and among sporting men. Edna Macaulay lives with her sister at 30 West Seventy-first street.

The address given for Miss Waters is the Hotel Woodford, but it was declared last night that she didn't live at the hotel. Miss Macaulay's sister said that Miss Waters was a milliner and lived somewhere on the West Side, but she didn't know the exact address.

TWENTY-TWO MINERS KILLED.

Windy Shot Fires Fuel in Mine of Colorado Fused and Iron Co.

TRINIDAD, Col., April 22.—Twenty-two miners were killed to-day by a dust explosion in a mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. The mine is located forty miles west of Trinidad.

There were forty men in the mine at the time of the explosion. The explosion occurred in rooms 3 and 4, near the entrance, and was the result of a dust shot, which ignited the dust. The mine was not badly damaged and work was resumed in two days.

MONEY RAISED IN BROOKLYN.

Meeting of the Brooklyn Division of the National Red Cross.

The Brooklyn division of the American National Red Cross held a public meeting in Special Term room of the Supreme Court County Court House, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon. Col. Edward E. Britton presided and addresses were made by Col. Britton, Mrs. Mary Hatch Willard, the Rev. Dr. N. D. Hill of Plymouth Church, former Borough President Martin W. Littleton, James McKeen and others. Dr. Hill said that already $11,000,000 had been subscribed for the San Francisco sufferers, but that it was not enough, as $25,000,000 was needed.

Two delegates from the Central Labor Union were present and reported that the C. L. U. was working in sympathy with the Red Cross and would make a substantial contribution to the fund.

Another meeting will be held at the same place next Sunday.

In many of the Protestant churches in Brooklyn yesterday collections were taken up for the benefit of the San Francisco sufferers. In some of the churches the collection was put off until next Sunday, as the day had been made for Easter offerings only a week ago. Some of the collections reported are as follows:

Central Congregational Church, the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, $2,500; Plymouth Church, the Rev. Dr. N. D. Hill, $2,800; Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Cleland B. McAfee, $1,800; St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal Church, the Rev. Dr. Henry C. Swentzel, $600; Church of the Pilgrims, the Rev. H. P. Dewey, $200.

In accordance with suggestions made by Bishop McDonnell of the Catholic Diocese of Brooklyn collections were taken up at all the masses in all the churches in that diocese to-day. It is expected that the contributions will range between $20,000 and $30,000, but the exact amount will not be known until to-morrow.

The St. Vincent de Paul conferences of Brooklyn met on short notice yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Pacific street. One thousand dollars was raised in ten minutes. The conferences which did not contribute will do so during this week.

Mount Vernon to Send a Carload.

MOUNT VERNON, April 22.—Residents of Mount Vernon will ship a carload of provisions on Tuesday morning, direct to San Francisco. P. J. Ring, proprietor of the new City Opera House, received advice from the officials of the New York Central Railroad to-day that they will furnish the car and send it gratuitously. The car will stand on a siding at West Mount Vernon, and everything from a quart of potatoes to old clothes and bedding will be received. Ezra Kendall, comedian of the "Vinegar Boyer," who lives in Mount Vernon, headed the list of donors by giving $100 worth of flour and canned goods.

FAMILY OF SHOPLIFTERS.

Mother Had Young Daughters Help Her in Stealing From Department Stores.

Mrs. Alice Rand of 418 East Tenth street, and her daughters, Annie and Fannie, 12 and 9 years old respectively, were arraigned before Magistrate Finn in the Jefferson Market police court yesterday on a charge of petit larceny. The three, with Mrs. Rand's baby, Aaron, 2 years old, were arrested on Saturday in a Fourteenth street department store by Detectives Fisher and Itzel.

Fisher is employed in a Twenty-third street store. He saw Fannie standing in a hallway of the store with a basket bag stuffed with bundles wrapped in newspaper. While he was watching the child Annie came from another department store with a bundle which she slipped in the bag. Then the two children went to the Fourteenth street store, where they met the mother. Fannie remained outside with the bag, while Annie and the mother went inside. They were gone a long time and Fannie got impatient.

The detective's meantime were trailing the mother and Annie. The mother managed to lift some candy, which she took out to Fannie to keep her quiet. Later she got a child's dress, which she slipped under her jacket and the two walked out. Then the four Rands were arrested and taken to the Mercer street station.

An examination of the bag revealed one child's dress, one girl's coat, a feather box, one woman's suit, a quantity of cigars, pipes and tobacco, one man's suit and one boy's suit. The total value was about $100, but the prisoners were charged only with the theft of the child's dress.

The party took their arrest coolly and when brought before the court one of the three showed the least emotion. Magistrate Finn wouldn't entertain any charge against Fannie, who with the baby, was placed in charge of the Gerry society. Mark Alter, who represented the Rands, waived examination and both mother and daughter were held for trial in $500 and $300 respectively. Rand will soon become a hard working, respectable man.

THE CIRCUS IN BROOKLYN.

Gets Over the Bridge All Right in Spite of the Elephants.

The children, both young and old, for there will be many old ones in Brooklyn this week, will flock to old Washington Park, Third avenue and Third street, to see "The Greatest Show on Earth," which arrived in that borough while most of its inhabitants were sleeping early yesterday morning. The big show was successfully moved from Madison Square Garden to the park yesterday without an accident, although the elephants did not seem to care much for the trip across the Bridge. There were some small boys who were not satisfied with the knowledge that the circus would be in Brooklyn this week and remained up to see the big wagons, ponies, horses and elephants.

All day long yesterday thousands visited the scene of the show and flocked around the big white canvas tents. It was comparatively a day off for all hands employed in the show, and they took advantage of it and had a rest. Today Hamilton, who is an authority, assures the people of Brooklyn that this is the best show that has ever visited Brooklyn.

FRENCH MINERS ARE RIOTOUS

CLASH WITH TROOPS, WHO HAVE ORDERS NOT TO FIRE.

Government's Attitude Brings on a Situation That Daily Grows More Serious—Hunger Adds to the Anger of the Men in Several Districts—Shops Looted.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LENS, April 22.—Notwithstanding the presence of nearly 30,000 soldiers the whole colliery district is virtually in a condition of revolution. Robbery, destruction and violence continue.

The Government has not yet abandoned its attempts at pacification, and the orders to the troops are not to interfere with the strikers unless in self-defense. The commanding officers are ordered to fire only in the most extreme cases. The soldiers have suffered severely. Their discipline and self-control in face of cruel peltings with broken bottles, stones and scraps of iron have been marvellous.

These attacks have been received more than once or twice without a shot being fired or a sword drawn in defence, the only retaliation being the temporary scattering of the mobs by charges of cavalry, in which many horses and riders were thrown by wires stretched across the roads, while the rioters took refuge behind barricades or in buildings. In other cases the soldiers and gendarmes used their weapons, but the injuries they inflicted were numerically trifling compared with those sustained by the troops.

The situation, however, is becoming intolerable, and the commanders are hourly expecting orders to fire on the strikers. Fresh troops were arriving all day to-day. They are compelled to lay down on the streets, as all the halls and other available buildings, including the Labor Exchange, here are filled with soldiers who arrived earlier. It is perilous for reporters to move among the rioters. Several of them only escaped serious consequences by distributing money. The officers have warned them that they cannot be responsible for their safety.

Meanwhile the cry of the strikers is being added to by hunger. Sympathy for their sufferings in this respect must be qualified. They have pillaged groceries, bakers' and butchers' shops, the owners of which were hardly more prosperous than themselves. They also looted the markets, and after satisfying their momentary needs scattered provisions of all kinds in the most wanton manner. Small traders who have thus far escaped robbery are now in dread that their places will be ransacked.

The gendarmes made numerous arrests to-day. It is expected that this will increase rather than calm the disorders. More barricades are being built at Liven and other towns.

According to the Echo de Paris the troops in Lens have at length received orders to repress the rioting there with a strong hand, firing upon the rioters if necessary.

The Temps reports that the riotous people are beginning to take heart owing to the increased number of troops despatched to the disturbed sections. The soldiers are constantly patrolling in the Denain district, and this caused the strikers to remain comparatively quiet to-day.

Owing to seditious notices issued by the labor unions in reference to a demonstration on May 1 the Board of Works in Paris has notified contractors that street work must be completed by April 30. If this is impossible the contractors must remove all tools, paving blocks and everything else that could be used as missiles. The public is advised to store oil, candles and water, as the gas and water supplies may possibly be interfered with.

ROYALTY AT OLYMPIC GAMES.

Athletes Parade the Stadium, Opening the Competitions.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

The King and Queen of Greece and other members of the Greek royal family, King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg and many other great personages were present. The uniforms worn by the Kings and their suites and by the military and naval officers present contrasted brilliantly with the white marble stadium, in which the sports were held. The Crown Prince of Greece, as president, read an address, after which King George declared the games opened.

All the competitors formed in line, four abreast, and marched around the stadium, being acclaimed by 60,000 spectators. A combined gymnastic display was the only event on the programme to-day.

TO LEAVE 5TH AVENUE HOTEL

Planning to Move State Committee Under Odell's Successor.

Republicans familiar with the inner workings of their State committee were in town yesterday and said that the change in the chairmanship, which they predicted would occur some time before June 1, included a change in the headquarters of the committee, which are not to be in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, but probably in an office building nearby, very likely the St. James.

The Fifth Avenue Hotel has been the headquarters of the Republican State committee, especially since the Garfield campaign in 1880, and there successively have reigned as State Chairman Alonzo B. Cornell, Chester A. Arthur, B. Platt Carpenter, John F. Smyth, James D. Warren, Chester S. Cole, Cornelius N. Bliss, John N. Knapp, William Brookfield, Charles W. Hackett, George W. Dunn and B. B. Odell, Jr.

The Republicans, who are to make a change in their State chairman, said yesterday that there had been too much fribble and posing at the Fifth Avenue Hotel; that there had been little or no system recently in the committee's affairs, and that change to an office building where work, work, work was to be the watchword was now essential.

RAISED THE LIMIT WITH A COP.

Woman Gets Tired of Losing on Good Hands and Has Poker Game Pinched.

A tall, angular woman about 50 years old ran out of the apartment house at 137 West Forty-ninth street about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. At the corner of Seventh avenue she found Patrolman Peter McKee of the West Forty-seventh street station and told him she had been fleeced in a poker game.

The woman, who said she was Irene Lockman of 158 West Eighteenth street, led McKee to a flat on the fourth floor. He found two men and a woman sitting near a table on which were cards and chips.

"You are pinched," said McKee, "all four of you," and he took them over to the station house.

The other woman said she was Marie Vergnolles, French, 45 years old. She said she paid the rent in the Forty-ninth street house and had been invited to play poker there on Saturday nights. The men said they were John Ferguson of 40 East 101 street, and Louis Arachizini of 38 Washington street. All four were charged with being common gamblers and in addition the men were charged with robbing Mrs. Lockman. The women got half the men were locked up.

Mrs. Vergnolles talked freely. "Women have not played much in my place," she said, "but I have been invited to play by a woman friend of mine, who said she was a keen gambler and able to take care of herself. Mrs. Lockman came around Saturday night and brought six dollars. She sat down to play quarter limit. I never play myself, but pinch 5 cents out of her jackpot. I only do that to pay for the coffee and tea that my friends drink."

"You never saw such luck as Mrs. Lockman had. She seemed to win all the time, and pretty soon they were playing $1 limit. Yesterday morning she brought me in on the first game and I think that woman had some $200 winnings. Then Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Arachizini came in and then she was gone. The crowd was good hands, all the time good hands, but the others had always better ones. When she got three aces and a pair of queens one of the men had four deuces. If she had a king, high flush it would be beaten by an ace high one."

Just before the policeman came Mrs. Lockman excused herself. The Americans are so modest I thought she wished to go outside to get at her pocketbook—but she went for the gendarme."

NEW ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH.

Cornerstone of the Building Laid Yesterday by Archbishop Farley.

The cornerstone of the new church of St. Michael's in Thirty-fourth street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, was laid yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Archbishop Farley officiating at the exercises. Immediately afterward the Archbishop was called upon to lay the cornerstone of the new parochial school. Some 20,000 persons witnessed the ceremonies and the procession, which started at the old church in West Thirty-first street at 3:30 o'clock, was one of the largest the West Side has ever seen.

First came a detachment of eighty policemen under command of Capt. Ward. They were followed by the band of the Immaculate Virgin, 1,000 members of St. Michael's Holy Name Society, delegates from the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, 1,000 members of the Knights of Columbus, sixty altar boys and choristers, 1,700 children from the parochial school, and last 300 little girls in white, members of the Society of the Children of Mary.

When the site of the new church and school was reached the little girls sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The Rev. John A. Gleason, pastor of the church, was master of ceremonies at the laying of the cornerstone of the church, assisted by the Rev. W. J. McDonnell. The address was delivered by Mgr. Joseph S. Mooney.

It is expected that the new church and school and the home for the Presentation nuns, who have charge of the school, will be completed in about a year. Then the present church and other buildings will be torn down to make room for the Pennsylvania Railroad tunnel.

St. Michael's church in Thirty-first street was dedicated in 1857 by the late Archbishop Donnelly. About fifteen years ago the church was burned and the present edifice was erected.

Of the sixty nuns who have charge of the school there are many who have not been out of the home for the last fifteen years. When they move to the new home a year from now they will go on the street for the first time in sixteen years.

Statue to Edwin Booth.

In an address last night at the service of the Actors' Church Alliance in All Souls Unitarian Church Bronson Howard, the playwright, spoke of "The Growing Dignity of the Dramatic Profession." He eulogized Edwin Booth, saying that America would honor him with a statue in this city. He also said the actor and not the college professor eventually would be the authority on Shakespeare and the drama generally.

STEAMSHIP PIER INVADED

By Italians Clamorous to See Immigrants Detained Aboard.

The reserves of the West Thirty-seventh street police station were called out yesterday afternoon to handle a crowd of Italians who had besieged a pier at the foot of West Thirty-fourth street, where the Italian Line's steamer Citra di Napoli was tied up. The liner got in four days ago with 300 or 400 steerage passengers, all Italians. Because of the cramped conditions on Ellis Island the immigrants have been held up in the liner. Yesterday a good many relatives of the incoming Italians, who had been hanging around the Barge Office waiting for them to land, heard that they were still on board at Thirty-fourth street. Thither they went, about 100 strong.

They pushed out on the pier and tried to board the steamer, but were repulsed. Then they swarmed over two sand scows which ran out near the part of the vessel where the detained immigrants were gathered. Gaetano Gattari of 520 East Thirtieth street caught sight of his brother on board the Citra and was so glad that he fell off the sand scow into the drink. Police-man Frank Day jumped in after him with a rope. When the Italian was pulled out he was almost gone. He was taken to Bellevue. It was after Gaetano had got a duck that the reserves were called out to clear the pier.
